SPECTRUM.....Be The change

Volume 1: April-July 2015

International School Award
2015 - 2018

From the desk of The Principal

Dear Students,

Once again I enjoy the proud privilege of reaching you through this first issue of our news letter. Spectrum- Be the change for the academic year 2015-16. It has been a year, the journey of our newsletter has started. Since then the pleasure of enjoying the charismatic talents of our kids has been taking us to a joyous world. I rightly believe that the news letter succeeds in showcasing their talents and views for exploring new heights.

The year passed had witnessed many innovative developments that helped our school to raise to new heights. Thanks to the tender minds and hands at work and to the parents and teachers who had supported them. The excellent performance of our students who appeared for the boards exam of X & XII had brought laurels to our school – Also the creativity and hard work of our children succeeded in gaining the ISA award by British Council.

I believe that the true outcome of education should be the development of one's ability to use his knowledge in the right way and right time. Our endeavour is to help our children achieve that. It is the duty of parent and teachers to create an atmosphere of love, and affection that helps the children to bring out the refined qualities in them.

A big responsibility is bestowed upon us to mould a generation who can create a new and peaceful world. Let us hold hand to restore the respect, honor and dignity that education has commanded historically which are disappearing slowly from today's education scenario. Let us pledge to enhance the childhood by giving them proper environment which removes all the negativities and nurtures honesty, love and compassion in them.

Thank You.

Mrs Vinita Khaladkar
Principal

Expanding the Curriculum : Co-curricular Activities an Integral Part of Education

Academic subjects and co-curricular activities complement each other and develop a socially skilled, and healthier student. Co-curricular underpin the goal of teaching students to be responsible and fulfilled human beings with opportunities that develop character, critical thinking, social skills, and talents. These activities also provide students with a network of peers and adults who have interests and talents similar to their own.

Education is not merely concerned with the 3 R's. It is also concerned with the integrated development of the personality of an individual; his physical, cultural, aesthetic, social, mental and emotional aspects. The Secondary Education Commission observed, "We would like the school to see if it can provide a richly varied pattern of activities to cater to the development of children's entire personality." 'Learning by Doing', 'learning by Living' and 'Learning without Tears' are the main characteristics of new education.

In my opinion, schools should encourage every student to be a part of such activities. In City International school students are regularly involved in a variety of activities such as sports, school clubs, arts, CIS MUN, inter house and inter school activities, national and International trips and many other things. I believe that if you are involved in an activity in school, you will be more prepared to face life when you grow up. Being in an activity will help you become more compromised, responsible, and disciplined. It will also help you socialize with other people who share some of your same interests. Despite the time and effort involved in extracurricular activities, there are clear rewards in the form of fun and enhanced life skills.

It is very important that the students excel academically. Knowledge is one's greatest possession. But that should not let the co-curricular activities take a back seat! Both are equally important. They are needed for holistic development. Otherwise, the very purpose of education stands defeated. So we as parents and teachers should take active interest in encouraging children to participate in co-curricular activities.

Students" Paint the canvas of your life with many colours and patterns. Don't make it a plain landscape. Make it unusual and exciting"

CHARITY CLUB

"We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give."

The atmosphere in the school buzzed with activity for the students of the Charity Club. In the month of June the students collected innumerable items of dry food packets and snacks, with great enthusiasm which were donated to an orphanage. The children at the orphanage received it with great joy and happiness. Their eyes gleamed with joy, as the proverb says "The eyes that smile, speak more than the lips that talk. "

The motive of the Charity Club was fulfilled by kindling joy in the underprivileged children. I thank the Principal and Teachers for bestowing the golden opportunity of serving the Orphan Children.

Wise king

One day there came two women to king Solomon. "This lady has forcibly taken my baby because her's died". "No said the other women". "The dead baby is yours and the living baby is mine". "Then cut the baby into two halves", said the king. "You can each have one half of the baby". "Okay" said one woman. " If I cannot have the baby you will also not have". "No cried the other." "Do not kill the baby she can have the baby". King Solomon immediately realized who the mother of the baby was and he gave the baby to the woman who wanted it to be alive.

THREE THINGS IN LIFE.

Three things that once lost never come back-words, opportunity and time.

Three things that should never be lost-peace, love and self-confidence.

Three things that destroy a person -greed, pride and anger.

Three things that are most valuable-honesty, attitude and knowledge.

Three things that should not be broken-trust, promise and heart.

Three things that make you a great person-hard work, sincerity and success.

When flies buzz around in a train, I t's going to rain.
Small raindrops coming poring down,
with people dripping about the town
Frogs jump into puddles ,while we eat warm noodles
The clouds become grey and dogs run as hay.
From trees fall pitter patter Rain drops
As people huddle for shelter into shops.
And that's not all about rain
I love rain through it goes down the drain

The Great Power

This inspiring story has been written by one of India's greatest philosophers- Swami Vivekananda.

Once upon a time, all the gods came together in heaven. They were discussing about where would they keep the 'great power' with which man can achieve anything.

Few of them suggested that this power should be kept in a cave deep amidst the trees of a forest. Some said that the 'great power' should be kept on the highest of mountains. Others said that this should be hidden under the sea or on the moon. While some agreed and argued, one god said, "None of this is satisfying, the best place to keep the 'great power' is inside the humans because they may search for it everywhere but they may never search for it within themselves". Every god liked the idea and as per their plan the 'great power' was kept inside the humans.

This tells us that the power is inside us and if we realize it the "Nothing Is Impossible."

India of my Dreams

Dreams are quite natural. One always dreams about his future. Yes, even I dream of my future. However, I do also have some wonderful dreams about our country-India. I am proud to be an Indian but I want certain changes to take place. Such changes will make my country the Best in the World.

I want to see my India as a developed Nation. Today, we have poverty in India. People should be made economically safe. Everybody should be happy and satisfied in our country. The India of my dreams is free from all evil. One such evil that our country is suffering from is corruption. I wish to see India free from corruption. I also dream of an India where everyone is equal.

I want to see India performing well in sports and games. In Olympics too I want to see Indian winning Medals. The India of my dreams is free from the caste system too. All are given equal rights and opportunities to perform

I hope all of us want a better India so start designing your India so we can say - 'Sare Jahan Se Acha Hindustan Hamara' let's make our India a better place together.
